ROB EVERETT RACV Club General Manager

As we approach the end of 2024, I find myself reflecting on an incredibly busy and rewarding year for RACV Club.

It has been a pleasure to see Club members coming together for so many magnificent events, including Lunar New Year, the Healesville Races, Gabriel Gaté's final dinner, and the AFL Grand Final Lunch (to name a few), and there has been fantastic growth and engagement in our Member Interest Groups.

December, as always, is our busiest month, and we are thrilled to present a range of Christmas activities and events for you to enjoy. See page 4 for all the details.

I feel overwhelming pride after seeing first-hand the hard work and dedication displayed by our entire team, whose efforts have been pivotal in making this year so successful. Equally, I am deeply grateful for the ongoing support and enthusiasm of you, our members, which inspires everything we do.

A special highlight of 2024 has been the success of our suite at the MCG (even if my Swans didn't perform quite as well!), and we are delighted to continue to grow our successful portfolio of events at the Club, as well as exciting new experiences at other stadiums, including Marvel Stadium and Rod Laver Arena.

We were honoured to win both Restaurant of the Year and Bar of the Year at the Victorian Accommodation Awards for Excellence. Additionally, we retained our esteemed 3 & 2 Wine Glass Awards for the Members Dining Room and the Wine Bar, while Sojourn achieved a 1 Glass status at the Wine List of the Year Awards.

Looking ahead, 2025 promises to be just as exciting. Major projects are underway, including refurbishments at Healesville Country Club & Resort, and an extension of the Shared Workspace and the addition of a Members' Retreat at City Club. We'll keep you informed through the entire exciting process.

On behalf of everyone at RACV Club, I wish you and your families a very merry Christmas and a happy, healthy New Year. We look forward to continuing to create exceptional experiences with you in 2025 and beyond.

WHAT'S IN STORE FOR 2025?

As we head to 2025, we're thrilled to announce some of the incredible events and opportunities that are sure to captivate and inspire our Club members.

From world-class events to locally inspired gatherings, the Club's 2025 calendar is shaping up to be a blockbuster year.

Senior Club Events Coordinator Rebecca Walsh says the 2025 program offers something for every Club member. Parents can head to Healesville for summer school holiday activities in January (see breakout), and the Club's celebration of the famous Scots poet Robert Burns returns on 25 January.

As the Club celebrates 20 years in Bourke Street, we are also thrilled to announce a 20-year anniversary Gala.

"The Club has a consistent line-up of events that members love, such as the Lunar New Year Dinner, and we're delighted to bring those back again next year," Rebecca says. "But we're equally excited about new offerings such as the Italian Opera Night in Healesville."

Rebecca says the Club's complimentary Mentoring Program will be offered again in 2025. "This program is exclusive to RACV Club members, and it's a much-loved member benefit," she says.

If you're interested, contact Club Events: clubevents@racv.com.au. Look out for your weekly newsletter and keep an eye on the Club's social media channels and website for details about forthcoming events, including our 20-year Gala dinner to be held in winter.

BEYOND TEXTILES

23 November 2024 – 23 February 2025

ARTIST DANI MARTI. IMAGE: JONO CARROLL

An exciting new exhibition is on display in the gallery lounge that will challenge viewers' ideas of textiles. Featuring works by artists Tia Ansell, Casey Jeffery, Tim Gresham, Dani Marti and Rubaba Haider, Beyond Textiles explores material, subject and process.

All of the artists approach the idea of textiles in very different ways, from traditional textile making to exploring the social and cultural importance of fabric. Co-curated by Visual Arts Curator Ellen Wignell and Head of Visual Arts Mardi Nowak, the exhibition showcases Mardi's skills as a tapestry weaver and textile art specialist for more than 25 years. Mardi has exhibited widely and has also delivered cross-cultural weaving projects internationally.

"It has been wonderful to collaborate with Ellen Wignell on this exhibition; there has been lots of knowledge and skill sharing," says Mardi. "We are both very excited to share key works from these artists with our Club members. I'm sure they will see textiles in a very different way."

Visitors can witness the meticulous labour and rhythmic craftsmanship behind tapestries and woven fabrics while exploring innovative techniques that reimagine textiles on paper and canvas.

This exhibition blurs boundaries, with artists such as Tim Gresham creating detailed woven tapestries that interplay colour, light, and perception, and Dani Marti transforming rope and industrial materials into sculptural works that redefine textile forms.

The exhibition contrasts works that embrace traditional textile-making techniques with paintings that mimic the appearance of fabric. Casey Jeffery's paintings of printed textiles evoke a sense of domestic nostalgia, inviting visitors to reminisce about interior designs from the 1970s and '80s, filled with bold op-art patterns.

Similarly, Rubaba Haider captures the woven and unravelling essence of textiles in her intricate, delicate works on paper, encouraging viewers to reflect on the passage of time and the process of creation.

Melbourne-based artist Tia Ansell combines both weaving and painting. Coming to weaving while undertaking a painting degree, Tia is drawn to how architecture and weaving come together with their grid formations.

"What is so exciting and special about this exhibition is we feature very established artists such as Dani and Tim alongside more emerging artists like Tia Ansell and Casey Jeffery. There is something unique that happens when artists work in textiles, there is lots of skill sharing," explains Mardi.

● Members can discover more about the works at the upcoming In Conversation event on Saturday 8 February at 2.30pm. Beyond Textiles is on display until 23 February 2025.

RECIPROCAL CLUB

From the vast savannahs of the Serengeti to the lush rainforests of Uganda and the arid beauty of the Namib Desert, Africa's landscapes are as diverse as its wildlife. It's the reason so many people have an African safari on their bucket list. But there's another reason for Club members to entertain the idea of enjoying this once-in-a-lifetime experience: RACV Club has seven reciprocal clubs in Africa, giving you the chance to explore this great continent in style.

Start off by talking to a travel expert at RACV Travel & Experiences about what African adventures are on offer through their preferred travel partners and find one that's right for you.

You can begin or end your adventure with a luxurious stay at Muthaiga Country Club. Founded in 1913, this private member's club is situated in the serene and tranquil Muthaiga area of Kenya's capital city. It's a colonial-era gem that provides a great escape from the intensity and density of Nairobi.

The city's attractions include year-round warm weather and spectacular wildlife parks. Nairobi National Park is the only national park located within a major city in the world. Just a short drive from the city centre, you can see wildlife such as lions, giraffes, zebras and rhinos.

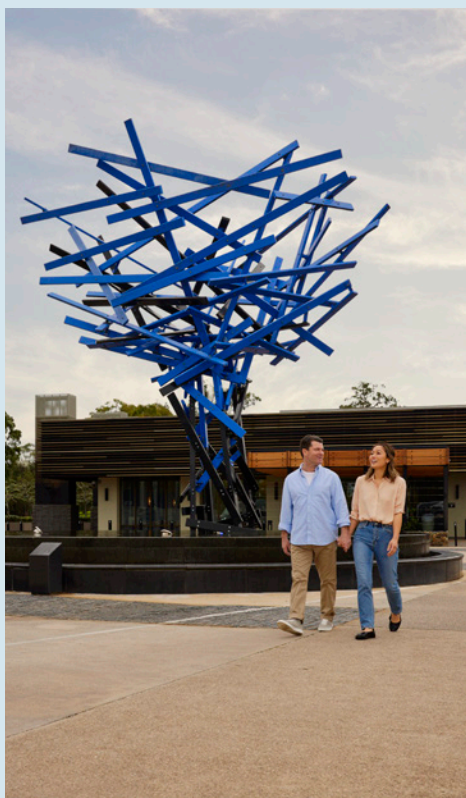

With its pink and white colonnades, the club itself has an old-fashioned charm. There is a strict dress code in most areas and restrictions on the use of mobile phones and laptops. It has comfortable ensuite bedrooms with modern amenities, first-class sports facilities and a library with 20,000 books. Then of course, there is the food, with fresh roasts and a daily à la carte menu.

Visitors need government-issued photo IDs, as well as a letter of introduction, but once there you can relax and enjoy the creature comforts.

ARRANGE YOUR RECIPROCAL CLUB INTRODUCTION

RACV Club Members need to arrange a letter of introduction prior to visiting Muthaiga Country Club. Details at racv.com.au/club or scan the QR code.

CRUISE CONTROL

From booking and planning, to what to pack and where to go, here's tips and tricks for heading on a voyage across the seas.

Whether you're planning a short getaway within Australian waters or an international tour exploring cities abroad – the variety of cruise options can be exciting, if not a little overwhelming.

Find out what to do with our guide before booking your next cruise.

When is the best time to book a cruise?

Savvy travellers know the prime time to get the best cruise deals is typically between December and February. Not only does it tend to be a cheaper time of year to book a holiday with sales still rolling after Christmas, but the 'wave season' for cruises is underway, where many cruise lines offer deals, discounts, and onboard credits.

Where is the best destination to go on a cruise?

A cruise can accommodate every kind of traveller, from a solo trip around Australia's natural wonders or a romantic cruise in the South Pacific to a scenic cruise through the stunning landscapes of Alaska or Antarctica.

Think about whether you're looking to explore as many regions as you can in a short space of time or if you would rather visit a few destinations at a more leisurely pace.

How long do I want to be on the cruise?

Short cruises are perfect for first-time cruisers, providing a taste of life on board, while longer voyages offer enriching, immersive experiences in various regions. Determine the duration of your cruise based on your preferences and schedule.

How many stops will there be, and what can I do there?

While some may enjoy waking up to a new location every morning, others might prefer the leisurely pace of a day at sea, and families often prefer a cruise that shorter in length.

Once you're set on your destination, research the number of ports you'll visit and book your shore activities early to secure your preferred experiences.

What facilities and activities are on board?

Cruises are often designed for different demographics, with kids' clubs and waterslides suiting families, luxury cruising and cooking classes attracting couples, and comedy or culinary themed cruises creating the ideal atmosphere for groups of friends.

What should I pack for a cruise?

This depends on your destination and the weather, but essentials include identity documents, insurance documents and visas if needed, as well as toiletries, medication, sunscreen, chargers and any required adapters, phone, hat, day trip bag and pyjamas.

What's included in the cruise – and what costs extra?

Many cruises offer the ability to have your accommodation, transport, meals, and entertainment organised for you into one package, with the added convenience of unpacking your luggage just once.

Extra costs may include shore excursions, dinners at specialty restaurants, spa treatments, cocktails, laundry services, Wi-Fi and babysitting. Always check what's included when before you book.

RACV MEMBERS SAVE MORE ON AMAZING CRUISES WHEN BOOKING WITH RACV TRAVEL & EXPERIENCES

Find out more via this link or scan the QR code.

Do I need a passport or visa to go on a cruise?

If you are going overseas, you will need a valid passport, and you will also need to check the visa requirements of the places you will be visiting.

In Australia, you will require a legal identification document. Check with your travel agent about the documentation needed on board.

Do I need to be vaccinated against COVID-19 to go on a cruise?

While being vaccinated is not a legal requirement for cruises in Australia, certain cruise companies and destinations may require it. Check the fine print of any documentation that may be required to embark.

How do I book a cruise?

Browse online and speak to an RACV Travel & Experiences consultant to plan your dream itinerary for your luxury cruise. You can also chat to a travel agent in person at at one of our RACV Travel Stores for expert advice on destinations, durations, and possible itineraries.
